

" Stewardship Principles for Institutional Investors governance principles or may damage the long-term value of the Company's shareholders on a specific issue, the Company will from time to time inquire the management of the